

Message Boards (DEPRECATED)

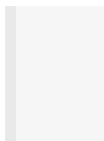

Some systems use a message board feature. This feature allows you post questions or comments for instructors, other students, and colleagues to respond to.

1. Select the name of any course from your home page to see the Utilities menu.
2. Select Forum to open the message board for that course.

3. To post a new subject, fill out the subject and message and then select Post.
4. To respond to a post, select Reply next to the post you want to respond to, create your message, and then Post Reply.
5. To read full posts, select the plus symbol (+).

An example of a message board thread.

Forum - WHMIS

Subject:

Forum Moderator

Name: OAHPP Instructor

Email: jbruce@sencia.ca

Message:

 Post

 What happens if I fail? Sebastian Brent

 Reply

2/28/2012 3:12:56 PM

What will happen if I fail the test? can I take it again?

 RE: What happens if I fail? OAHPP Instructor

 Reply

2/28/2012 4:59:48 PM

Hi Sebastian,

Retakes are allowed if you fail the WHMIS exam

 RE: What happens if I fail? Chinna Pravi

 Reply

3/1/2012 9:24:35 AM

 How long is the certification for? Michael Keith

 Reply

2/28/2012 3:08:15 PM

I was just curious about how long the certification lasts for? Will I have to renew it or take the test again after a certain amount of time?

 RE: How long is the certification for? OAHPP Instructor

 Reply

2/28/2012 4:59:00 PM

Hi Michael

The WHMIS certification is good for 1 year and the course must be taken annually.

Everyone with access to the course will be able to read your message board posts.